SUMMARY

- According to the poet a house is made up of hard materials like bricks,stones,wood and glass. It consists of doors,windows,roof,yard,chimneys etc. In other words, we can say things needed for a fully constructed house. But these non-living things cannot show any kind of emotins,feelings and mutual understanding. It is only a construction or simply a building. Where as a home is made by a beautiful family. A family consists of father,mother,sisters and brothers. We can see lots of love and mutual understanding here.The activities of the members are not at all self-oriented but meant for everyone. In home all family members share the feeling with each other and care for others.
